I called Tim and had him come out for a consult. He was very open about pricing and references. Tim is not cheap, but good work never is. He focuses on making new construction appear to have always been there. In my case he had to focus on a reduced budget from what he usually deals with. He did a great job of pricing it within my budget and getting me exactly what he promised. Additionally, he dealt with some unusual material sourcing methods so I could use some pricing advantages I had. I would definitely use Tim again as I believe in doing it right once rather than getting the cheapest option and having to replace it.
